≡TRIPOLISH

EXTRAORDINARY LIVING

We are all driven by the idea of extraordinary and the definition of extraordinary varies from smartest idea to out-of-the-world designs. And to add that extraordinary factor to the next generation of laminates, we introduce "Tripolish" a range of world class laminates inspired from the most extraordinary ideas. Here, every laminate is designed and created to prorate the richness of an interior.

EXTRAORDINARY LIVING

Inspiration is the seed which gives wings to fly beyond the ordinary and become something more, something extraordinary. There are some colossal, some outlandish and some unique; architecturally profound symbols around the world and every such marvel have a story behind it. An inspiration which made the world a better place.

The Chinese Qianlong vase a fine example of delicate craftsmanship has set a new record as the most expensive porcelain item ever sold in an auction. Sold for astounding $53 million speaks highly of its artistry. This 18th-century vase is approximately 16 inches tall and elaborately decorated with images of fishes. It is believed that it belonged to a royal family but was taken from them during the 2nd Opium War.

A monumental piece of 18th-century furniture that twice set the record for most expensive piece of furniture ever sold is the greatest work of the Grand Ducal workshop. The cabinet took 30 craftsmen some six years of hard work to create this masterpiece. In 2004, it went to auction and sold it to the Prince of Liechtenstein for $36.7 million making the history with the most expensive furniture ever sold.

The Vieuxtemps Guarneri is a violin that is older than the United States of America — 273 years old. It is so extraordinary that recently it became the most expensive violin in the world, selling for an estimated $16 million. The violin is named for its most famous owner, the leading 19th-century Belgian virtuoso and composer Henri Vieuxtemps, who loved it so much he wanted to be buried with it.

Shattering all records and becoming the most expensive rug ever sold, the auction at Sotheby's New York baffled everyone. Even as the rarest of masterpieces in handmade rugs. It was expected to bring in around 10 million dollars, but the unknown buyer was not willing to let it go at almost any price. It is speculated that the buyer is from the Middle East and it was probably acquired for a museum there, especially considering the links of the rug to Islamic history
